Your Responsibilities and Liability for Unauthorized Use

Your BRED Online Banking Service Login details are important. If you disclose them you will be at risk becoming a victim of fraud. Criminals use various methods to obtain your Internet and Mobile Banking details in order to defraud you.

A common method is by way of an email purporting to be from your bank. This is known as a Phishing email. The email will state some reason which requires you to click on a link which will take you to a website. The reason given may be to ensure continued access to your BRED Online Banking Service facility or perhaps to verify that you have received some funds. If you do click on the link then you will be asked to enter some or all of your BRED Online Banking Service details such as the full Login Name and Password. We only ask for the numbers appearing before the alphabet in your account number which is used for logging in. The website that you go to after clicking on the link will probably look very convincing and appear genuine and will be provided by a fraudster.

Should you receive such an email, please DO NOT neither follow the instructions nor respond. We will never ask customers to re-register security details by email.

Such e-mails are an attempt to obtain your BRED Online Banking Service Login details in order to remove funds from your bank accounts. Should you receive an email like this, do not respond and contact e-channels@bred.com.fj or call +679 310 0222.

Contact us immediately if you believe your password has been lost, stolen, used without your authorization, or otherwise compromised or if someone has transferred or may transfer money from your accounts without your permission. A phone call to us is the best way to reduce any possible losses. You could lose all the money in your accounts plus your maximum overdraft line of credit, if any. You agree to assist us in our efforts to recover any funds that were transferred or paid without your permission.

The Bank will advise you of permanent or long-term variations to cut-off times, however, the Bank may need to make temporary changes, in which case it may not give advance notice.
